BLASTS WRECK FORTY MILES OF PIPE LINE

One Man Injured When Section Under Highway Explodes

IN 2 TEXAS COUNTIES

Scraper Being Pushed Through By Compressed Air Blamed

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Nearly 40 miles of the Shell Pipe Line company 10-inch main oil pipe line from Wink, Tex., to Chicago, Ill., was blown out in Archer and Wichita counties in a rumbling series of explosions shortly before 8 o'clock this morning.

Apparently the only person injured was Roy H. Brinkley, Wichita Falls WPA worker, whose automobile was caught by one of the blasts where the line crosses under United States highway 320 10 miles south of here. Brinkley was not seriously injured.

Sections of the pipe line gave way every 30 to 50 feet and more along the many miles of right-of-way from 100 feet east of the pump station 10 miles southwest of Wichita Falls in Archer county to an undetermined point northeastward. Information from the pump station, two miles west of Wink, Okla., indicated the explosion did not extend that far. The distance between the two pump stations is 40 miles.

An employee at the Oklahoma pump station said that the line was being cleaned out at the time of the explosion by a scraper being pushed through by compressed air.

Information from the pump station two miles west of Wink, Okla., indicated the explosion did not extend that far, placing the limits of the blast at 40 miles, the distance between Ryan and the pump station near here. It was not yet known exactly how near Ryan the last blast occurred.

Reports from the Oklahoma company, which is the operator of the line, said that the line was damaged for about 40 miles. Officials there and at Houston said they only had meager reports, but that an aerial survey was being made.

The district superintendent's office at Colorado City said an interruption along the company's telephone line was interfering with a check-up on the extent of the blast.

C. C. Ingram, pipe line superintendent of the Shell company's Gulf coast division at Houston, said the report a bridge carrying the pipeline across the Red river had been destroyed apparently was erroneous since the line ran under the river.

Leche, a witness summoned by prosecution and defense, has not yet appeared to testify in the ten-day old trial.

J. Andy Thomas, board member recalled to the stand today, testified that Governor Leche told him in 1936 the refunding plan had been presented to him by Newman, Harris and company and he thought well of it and for the levee board to look carefully into the contract.

Similar testimony was given yesterday.

"Did the governor say that he presented the Newman, Harris plan to him for his consideration?" District Attorney Rene A. Viosea asked the witness.

"No, he did not," Thomas replied. "The governor appoints members of the levee board," he was asked.

"Yes, sir."

GOODBYE, NEW YORK—HELLO, HELSINKI!

Cotton Prices Reach Peak Of Recent Years

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Cotton climbed to a peak as a "war baby" today, reaching the highest prices in several years in domestic and foreign markets.

In the New York cotton exchange, contracts at one time reached levels of $1 a bale above previous closings, making the best marks since mid-1937. Since just before the war the price has worked up 2 cents a pound, or $10 a bale.

War demand, shipping difficulties and soaring foreign markets all combined to breathe new life into the market for the staple after several years of depressed inaction under the burden of excessive subsidies.

A big factor in the change, of course, has been the loss of some large cotton cargoes by mines and submarines.

Speculative and foreign trade sources continued to bid eagerly for contracts in the wake of steep new rises in the Liverpool, Bombay and Alexandria markets.

Since the start of the war, brokers pointed out, shippers have again become a dominant force in the New York cotton ring and in southern spot markets in contrast with their inactivity over the last few years.

The extent of revival of the export market was indicated, brokers added, by the huge buying "to beat the gun" between the recent clipping of export subsidy rates. These were cut by Washington to help move the staple into foreign markets.

But cotton has been doing so well lately on its own the subsidy has been shaved close to the vanishing point.

At the start the subsidy was fixed

JONES DENIES RECEIVING PAY TO ENTER RACE

Asserts Only Three Of Former Seven State Bosses Unindicted

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Gubernatorial Candidate James H. Morrison's rally in Port Allen last night almost ended in a free-for-all when the son of a man he was attacking took off part of Morrison's shirt after trying to pull him from the platform.

Morrison, after staging his convict parade, started speaking at a one-point rally at Port Allen last night. West Baton Rouge parish representative, as a "two-bit termite politician who double-crossed" his constituents.

The representative's young son, Horace Wilkinson, III, heard the attack and sought to climb up on the sound truck where Morrison stood in shirt-sleeves. He succeeded in tearing the candidate's shirt partly off.

Friends of Morrison and Wilkinson rushed up and there were hot words and much milling about before order was restored.

Sam Jones, speaking over radio from Oakdale, said that only three of the seven men who "ran" Louisiana five months ago were not indicted in 302 indictments returned against state administrators.

James A. Noe, appearing at Plain Dealing and Cotton Valley, said political maladministration was preventing industrial growth in the state.

Wilkinson, at his home, said Morrison made an unwarranted attack on his father.

"I don't know Morrison from Adam," he said. "I had stopped my car on the highway to listen to him for a few minutes. Naturally I resented these slurs upon my father, so I jumped from the car and made a grab at the speaker."

Wilkinson said he was set upon by a group of men.

"If friends of mine from Port Allen hadn't pulled them off somebody might have been hurt," he said.

Morrison, resuming his talk after the excitement subsided, said: "I'll talk about this Horace Wilkinson all I want to and if he doesn't like it let him see me personally. Or let him come to my home town and talk about me and I'll make all the arrangements for him to do it."

Morrison charged Wilkinson and

PHILLIPS RECEIVES CONFIDENCE VOTE

ALEXANDRIA, La., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Dr. S. J. Phillips, superintendent of the Central Louisiana Hospital for Insane at Pineville, indicted recently for embezzlement and income tax law violation, was given a vote of confidence by the hospital's board of administrators.

Dr. Phillips, in a statement, and the board, in a resolution, blamed the indictments on politicians opposed to the present state administration.

Dr. Phillips said the indictments were based on his collection of contributions by hospital employees to the state political administration. These contributions, he said, were entirely voluntary and in no sense infractions of the law.

The board said it had "confidence in the integrity, honesty and square dealing" of Dr. Phillips.

Appeals that are coming to the Good Fellows editor this year are concerned more often with the request for clothes and food, the mere fundamentals of existence, rather than for toys and less practical presents. The appeals are pathetic in their earnestness and evident sincerity and the picture they disclose of dire poverty is such as to make a heart of stone feel degrees of compassion. And the worst feature lies in the fact that the children in these homes are principal sufferers.

Adults accustomed to enduring hardships, can get by some way, but not so with the kiddies. How dear to their young lives is the thought of Santa Claus! How destructive of sentiment, that is a part of every child's life, is that when there are no tender memories of that good old mythical saint! The child who loses that memory has lost something out of his or her young life that can never be restored.

Good Fellows have had a number of appeals where individuals or Sunday school classes have asked to "adopt" a family for Christmas, seeing that they are supplied with the good things of life. This is a fine spirit. We are glad to aid in any way along this line but the same time, we want that fund to be increased many many times over for it is way off from what it should be at this time of the month.

Here are some specimens of letters that are being received:
"Dear Mr. Goodfellows: I am a little boy 12 years old. I have three sisters and two brothers. My father

35 SCHOOL BOARDS TO GET WARRANTS

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 11.—(AP)—T. H. Harris, state superintendent of education, announced his office has drawn warrants on the state auditor for payment to 35 parish school boards of a total of $964,772.36, representing the first one-third payment of the state equalization fund for the 1939-40 session.

Equalization payments this year will total $2,894,317, Harris said. The fund is paid parishwise having school revenues insufficient to maintain a minimum standard prescribed by the state department of education.

SCOUTMASTER KILLS BOY SCOUT AND SELF

ELIZABETH, Pa., Dec. 12.—(AP)—County Detective Frank Ritz reported that Scoutmaster Daniel Hackett, 29, accidentally killed Norval Harrison, 15-year-old Boy Scout, then shot himself to death in remorse over the tragedy.

The victims were inseparable companions, said Ritz, and apparently were examining a .22 rifle at Hackett's home preparatory to a hunting trip when the youth was slain last night by a bullet through the head.

Daniel Hackett, Sr., said his unmarried son and the Harrison boy had spent more than an hour in the scoutmaster's room with the rifle playing when he heard a thud and went to investigate. Hackett brushed past him on the stairway.

The elder Hackett came upon the Harrison boy's bleeding body. Within a few seconds a shot sounded and he found his son hanging over a back porch bannister with a bullet through his head and the rifle nearby.

Ritz said that just above the Harrison youth's body he found "an apple hanging by a string from a chandelier." He added that "whether they were playing William Tell or not I don't know."

Neighbors reported Hackett and the scout often went on long hikes together and that the scout leader took a deep interest in his troop member, helping him with his school work.

COL. WILLIAMS WILL BE GUEST

Kiwanians Will Have Distinguished Flier At Luncheon

An unusually interesting luncheon is anticipated at the Kiwanis club, Hotel Virginia, Wednesday noon, when the group will be host to Colonel Roger Q. Williams, nationally famous aviator.

The colonel made aviation history 19 years ago when he flew from New York to Rome and also made the first round-trip non-stop flight from New York to Rome.

Colonel Williams' aviation record is such that he has been placed out in the line of the world's greatest aviators.

Members of the Kiwanis club will attend the luncheon and will be entertained by the colonel. The Kiwanis club is a service organization and the luncheon is a social affair.

RAYVILLE, Dec. 12.—(Special)—The grand jury of Richland parish, which has been in session on two previous occasions, at which sittings 75 indictments were returned, reconvened for their third session and after one day's work and the finding of one additional true bill, adjourned.

A report was made to C. J. Ellis, judge of the Fifth district court in which there was contained criticism of the police jury and its business methods, and also a charge that the representative of the auditor's office, M. O. Reeves, made certain criticism of one of the members of the police jury, and that this was omitted from the auditor's report following.

Among the criticisms of the police jury is that this body purchased excessive amounts of floor sweep, disinfectants and chemicals; that checks issued to other parties bore the names of members of the police jury as endorsement; that the record of script issued is indefinite; that checks should not have been issued for road work without actual work sheet; that while considerable amounts have been budgeted for bridge repair it is found that the bridges have been permitted to become dangerous; that there have been purchases in excess of $500.00 without advertisements for bids; that evidence was found of the omission from the auditor's report of March, 1938, of certain criticism of a certain member of the police jury made in the original audit by M. O. Reeves; that the system of bookkeeping is antiquated and a more modern system recommended; suggest that more care be taken in the preparation of the budget; recommend that full proceedings of the minutes, expenditures, disbursements, etc., be published in the official journal.

The grand jury also requested all officers to lend to the grand jury full and unqualified support towards elimination of gambling.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Attention, California! When one of our operators moved for Homer Norton at College Station, Tex., the other day, he was told, "Coach Norton is in Palo Alto, Cal." ... New Orleans cuties went wild over Billy Conn who attended a collegiate dance there Saturday night with Moon Mullins, the ex-Notre Dame grid star. ... Frank Thomas of Alabama has nixed an offer of an interest in the club, plus a fat contract to coach the Brooklyn Dodgers. ... Dan Topping, Dodger owner, still hopes he can make Nile Kinnick change his mind about pro football. ... We had no sooner chronicled that he was football's No. 1 iron man (with a record of 630 consecutive minutes) than two South Carolina Rebels popped out to knock him off his perch. ... John Edwards, end, and Moffat Long, center for Eskine college, have played through 19 consecutive battles, or 114 minutes each. ... who's next?

ARMSTRONG AND HOSTAK DEFEND BOXING CROWNS

Former Scores Knockout Over Garrison; Latter Blasts Seelig

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Welterweight champion Henry Armstrong and middleweight titleholder Al Hostak successfully defended their boxing crowns Monday night with knockout victories.

Armstrong stopped Jimmy Garrison of Kansas City in the seventh of a scheduled 10-round bout and Hostak edged Eric Seelig of New York in the first stanza of a 15-round go.

The two title bouts topped the annual Cleveland News Christmas fund show which drew a crowd of 12,000.

Garrison gave Armstrong a good argument for six rounds, but after the second stanza there was no question of the champion's superiority. The tireless Brown Blister began connecting with overhand rights and lefts in the third round, opened Garrison's left eye in the fourth, and had drawn blood from both eyes by the sixth.

A right swing high on the jaw floored Garrison for a count of nine in the seventh and when he came to his feet he was met with a flurry of gloves which soon had him on the canvas again. His corner tossed in the towel. The technical knockout was called in one minute, 19 seconds of the round.

Armstrong weighed 136½, Garrison 141.

After sparing for a brief time, Hostak caught the veteran Seelig with a left hook to the jaw and sent him sprawling for a count of nine. Seelig wobbled to his feet, only to catch a right uppercut on the chin. He tried to get up again on the count of nine, but was too late. The knockout came in one minute and 21 seconds.

It was Hostak's first ring appearance east of the Mississippi.

He weighed 159 pounds and Seelig 160.

There were scattered boos from the crowd after the short Hostak bout but Al Schacht, baseball comedian, put the customers in good humor again with his famous shadow boxing, self-knockout act.

Hostak, noted as a puncher with both hands, demonstrated by using his left for one knockdown and his right for the second on the only two damaging blows he landed.

Benny Leonard, former lightweight champion, refereed the Armstrong bout.

DAWSON SAYS WAVE SUBS STRONGER THAN IN 1931

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Coach Lowell (Red) Dawson told the Quarterbacks' club Monday that his present squad which will meet the Texas Aggies in the Sugar bowl, has more reserve strength than the Tulane Rose bowl team of 1931.

Dawson ought to know because he was quarterback of the 1931 squad. He said the Greenies would start light work for the Sugar bowl battle Tuesday instead of Friday as originally planned.

"I was in the 1931 team," said Dawson, "didn't have the reserve strength that we have this year, but they had much more uniform speed and handled the ball better—but I doubt if it was better than the 1939 team."

Lane Coach Tex Cox of Louisiana State university, asked about the comparative merits of Tulane and Tennessee, said he couldn't guess the winner if they played.

"Tennessee has blinding team speed," he said, "the players hold their block longer, and the squad is a great tackling team. Besides, the Vols have a very fine offense."

COHERN ELECTED MAROON GRID CAPTAIN FOR 1940

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Hunter Coheren, junior guard of Starkville, was elected captain of the 1940 Mississippi State college football team at the annual banquet in the college cafeteria Monday night.

Guy McDowell, junior guard of Columbus, was named alternate captain. The banquet was attended by about 500 persons, including alumni from many parts of the state. It was the largest such banquet in history.

The golden egg, symbolical of the annual Mississippi State-University of Mississippi grid struggle, won this year by State, was presented by Shag Goodley, State's great center, to John Board, student body president.

Wallace Covington, Columbus V. M. C. A. director, was toastmaster, and the principal address was delivered by Ames Saunders, Memphis, Tenn., broker.

Tuberculosis Lurks As Special Enemy Of Young People

Boys and girls will be flocking back home from school and college for the holiday season within the next few days. Boys and girls of all ages are all too prone to get tuberculosis and good spirits will abound in homes of many of us because John and Mary are back in town.

In the midst of Christmas cheer, it may seem odd to point to a silent and insidious enemy which lurks ever about us, ready to strike at any moment. But tuberculosis is a real enemy of the young people, and it is one that must be fought with all the resources of modern medicine.
